Walnut Creek District

A plant swap is exactly what it sounds like: a forum for swapping out plants with fellow gardeners. Seed and plant exchanges allow gardeners in the community to come together and share seeds, cuttings, and transplants from their own gardens or houseplants to swap with others. No cash exchanged and no canned goods please!

K-State Research and Extension is committed to providing equal opportunity for participation in all programs, services and activities. Accommodations for persons with disabilities may be requested by contacting the event contact, Lacey Noterman at 785-798-9221 or Inote@ksu.edu. K-State Research and Extension is an equal opportunity employer.
